

Careers for 7 Generations

Designed for: Grade 9-12 classes at Mi'kmaw Kina'matnewey Schools and groups of Indigenous youth at off-reserve public schools.

Status: Now accepting Bookings for the 2025 – 2026 School Year.

Language: This program is available in English.

Careers for 7 Generations helps high school-level learners explore exciting career opportunities in the growing clean economy. An initiative of the Indigenous Energy Project, this workshop offers a unique blend between career exploration and traditional knowledge. Learners will explore how their lived experiences, skills and interests can be connected and applied to opportunities in the clean economy and the Mi'kmaw practice of Netukulimk. Through games, self-reflection and group activities, learners will examine environmental issues in their own community, and consider how they can play a role in a cleaner economy.

The Careers for 7 Generations workshop is what I wish I knew in high school. The goal is to help students start to think about potential career paths in a holistic way – guiding students to explore careers that fit their skillset, preferences and their community's needs.”

– Matthew Copage, Community Educator, Clean Foundation

Requirements

Format: In-person.

Time requirements: This program is run optimally in two class periods (approximately 1 hour and 20 minutes); we will do our best to accommodate your period length and class schedule.

Location requirements: Classroom environment with a screen and projector.